NEWSLETTER SEPTEMBER 2015

Table Conveners: All our table conveners are volunteers and we should all be appreciative of them for giving their time to try and match up partners. Their names and contact details can be found on front of the Programme Book. There are two ways you can find partners through Table Conveners:

1. See them well before an event/session and tell them you would like a partner.
2. Phone them and advise them that you would like a partner (If possible use a landline number as your contact number, as costs can be incurred calling a mobile).

No-Nos

- turning down playing with someone offered to you by the convener
- not advising the convener if you find a partner after requesting one.

Written System Agreements: Our directors have recommended that we encourage the use of written system agreements/cards within the club. They are required at all tournaments. They are especially helpful for new players and when the opposition asks a question about the meaning of a bid. Also, if a written system agreement is held for each of your partners it is a simple matter of looking at the card when about to play with that partner. There are sample system agreements on the NZ Bridge web site, and system cards are available at the club.

Changing Bridgемate Entries: It is strongly re-emphasised that only the Session Director can authorise a change to the results originally entered into a Bridgемate.

Programme Book: The Programme Book for 2016 is presently being compiled. Please advise Helen Edwards if any change is needed to your entry in the current book.

Next year's programme: The committee is planning to implement a change to some sessions, where the Director will be non-playing if there are an even number of players, and only playing if there is an odd number of players. The intent of this is to ease our new members, fresh from lessons, into competitive play and give them the opportunity to meet potential partners. This also gives those that have been unable to find a partner through the Table Conveners the opportunity to play. Some sessions on Thursday night could be adapted to this format or some additional sessions provided on a Monday night.

Your comments on this proposal are welcome.
